Schoeller Allibert TIME
Innovating your logistics for a better world

Schoeller Allibert Time (SAT), a joint venture company between the global leader in materials handling Schoeller Allibert Systems, Netherlands & the leading innovative polymer processing company Time Technoplast Ltd., India sets the standard for stackable crates & containers. SAT offers groundbreaking product features, & also finds a comprehensive & sustainable solution to meet customer’s demands throughout the product life.

SAT launches new Integra Crates which are much stronger and advanced than the existing crates used today. Integra has an enhanced design to reduce product damage in transit, keeps the products safe with its solid base and walls and secured with its attached hinged lid. Integra saves up to 70% space while reverse transportation.

Integra Advantages:

Easy Handling

Central Stacking

Secure Locking Device

Ergonomic Handles

Large Inside Volume

Integrated Card Holders

Additional Advantages:

- Integra is the perfect warehouse-to-store solution
- These light, flexible containers can be repacked conveniently with clothing, accessories, textiles and other retail products
- Being easy to unload, they help minimize time spent at the store
- It can even be used on conveyors very conveniently
